Seattle is filled with wonderful neighborhoods, but none are as historic as Downtown Seattle and Pioneer Square. Seattle's Downtown Central Business District is much easier to navigate than many other metropolitan cities, and is filled with natural beauty and a rich history. Please let us know if you are interested in looking at Downtown Seattle Condos or Lofts.

Natalia Ivanova
Lead Broker / Residential & Investment Consultant

Brian began in real estate 12 years ago as an investor. While a sophomore at the University of Idaho, he purchased his first home and commercial property with a personal loan from a military bank. He continued buying, renovating, renting, and selling as a hobby before finally deciding to help others buy and sell. Before he entered sales, he had already solidified his expertise and skills in negotiations. In his first 12 months of sales, alone, he sold tens of millions in residential and investment properties.
